

integrated LEADERSHIP

...empowering middle leaders

Organizations

- Increase engagement
- Create healthier corporate cultures
- Enhance business performance

Individuals

- Break down the walls of "us vs. them"
- Navigate competing, even conflicting demands
- Lead without lines

middle leaders are the engine that drives an organization's culture, execution, & reputation

In more than thirty years as a Fortune 100 executive, Ron became known for his ability to envision and rally teams – even in challenging times. He built a strong reputation for planning, execution, and organizational transformation. Leading domestic, international, and global operations, he was ultimately responsible for shipping over $20 billion a year.

Today, he is a leadership speaker and executive coach helping middle leaders thrive, both personally and professionally.

"Your program was one of the most popular and valuable programs of the convention."

Conference Producer

"Very engaging – would highly recommend to other leaders."

Fortune 500 Leader

"Great workshop & was very applicable to all styles, levels, & organizational models."

International
Non-Profit Executive

Ron Minatrea

Middle Leader Champion
Engaging Leadership Speaker
30+ Year Fortune 100 Executive

"I appreciated the past experience of the speaker & how it related to the message. More real-life than theory. Well worth the time out of the office."

KEYNOTES/WORKSHOPS

for middle leaders
& the senior leaders that depend on them...

Regardless of their title or position, middle leaders are those perhaps most responsible for the day to day execution of the operations, strategies, and objectives defined by their senior leaders.

These middle leaders are rarely asked to create the company vision – but rather to catch it!

They both lead & follow at the same time, lending their leadership – and perhaps the best years of their life, to someone else's cause.

Integrated Leadership, offered in both workshop or keynote form, is designed to help organizations engage and equip these key individuals, creating teams of high performing leaders all committed to a common vision – without compromising their own ambitions. It addresses three critical elements that enable middle leaders to thrive!

CLARIFY

Leaders get clear about their identity, what they want, and have to offer - resulting in greater confidence and focus.

COMMIT

Examines how to fully commit to the company's cause without compromising one's personal hopes, plans, and dreams.

CHAMPION

Focuses on becoming a better leader and an influential driver of change that can fuel business growth and mission success.

A Word to Event Planners

In my corporate role I was charged with pulling together several major events with huge budgets – and even larger expectations.

Today, I serve as the Associate Producer of an annual industry conference drawing hundreds of people from 15 countries - and coordinating the content from more than 50 presenters.

So I can appreciate at least some of the pressures & challenges you face as an event planner or conference organizer. I want to do everything I can to make your job easier ... and your event a rousing success.

~ Ron Minatrea

To help out, I offer:

- A single, all inclusive fee that lets you avoid the hassles of unknown expenses & reimbursements
- A 100% money-back guarantee to help you know you can trust the quality of my presentations
- Early arrival to reduce stress ... plus, I'm happy to make all my own travel arrangements
- On-site availability to participate in other conference activities, panels, or audience mixers
- A tailored presentation within my area of expertise to best suit your event objectives & themes
- Pre & post event availability by phone, email, video link, or even on site if required
- Executive coaching or extra workshops as needed