

Ron Minatrea – Bio

Ron Minatrea's passion for empowering leaders began during his career as a Fortune 100 executive. For more than 30 years he worked in and across multiple disciplines. Leading domestic, international, and global operations, he was ultimately responsible for more than $20 Billion in annual shipments.

Experienced in building and growing new operations, he was also asked to lead in more challenging times of consolidation, outsourcing, and migration to low-cost regions.

He developed a strong appreciation for the value and impact middle leaders, at all levels, have on an organization's success.

Ron became committed to engaging and equipping these key individuals who've been asked to both lead and follow at the same time. He also began helping organizations create environments where these leaders are valued; and can become successful - even when they don't create the vision, define the goals, or set the strategies.

Since 2012, Ron has worked as a speaker, consultant, and executive coach helping individuals lead with greater focus, effectiveness, and fulfillment; and helping organizations increase engagement, improve execution, and create healthier cultures.

Ron Minatrea – Bio

Ron Minatrea began empowering other leaders during his 30-year career as a Fortune 100 executive - ultimately leading global operations and shipping over $20 Billion per year.

Today, as a speaker and consultant - he equips leaders and their teams to become more effective - even when they don't make the rules.